

Dear valued client

I hope you are all enjoying the beautiful autumn weather – it's always lovely to welcome the change in seasons and the cooler days often lead to us thinking of ways to warm our interiors. This can be achieved with colour and texture and the new James Dunlop "Native" range offers a collection which does this. The collection is inspired by Native American culture. The rich clay like oranges and steely greys give a rich earthy quality which is enhanced by the textures of the fabrics.

LAKESTONE LODGE

It has been a busy time at the Studio; I have been working on some exciting projects in the High Country. The stunning Lakestone Lodge is due to open in June and would be a magical getaway over the winter months. I have enjoyed helping the owners to create this beautiful lodge – you can check them out on Facebook or on their website www.lakestonelodge.co.nz

Another High Country project I am working on is in its concept stages, I always enjoy the creative process of developing a feeling for what I envisage the final product to look like. I love creating mood boards which evoke this feeling and am happy to do this with all my clients.

SALE SALE SALE

After the huge success of our pop up shop last year we are having another pop up sale with a new range of fabrics at incredible prices including drapery and upholstery fabrics. If you are looking at new drapes or recovering that favourite piece of furniture than this is too good to miss. We also have many smaller pieces for craft projects and a range of cushions and wallpaper.

The sale will be held at the old studio at

16 Matilda Street, Timaru

and will run daily from the 9th -14th of June from 10am – 4pm

(Excluding Sunday) so mark it on your calendar and tell your friends and family.

Thought for the day:

“Develop interest in life as you see it; in people, things, literature, music - the world is so rich, simply throbbing with rich treasures, beautiful souls and interesting people.

Forget yourself.”
